Wartburg Sets Early Yule;

By E. Lorraine Fiegen

Observance of Christmas will begin early on the Wartburg campus.

Both secular and religious festivities are planned, beginning with Pi Sigma's Chrstmas Ball on Friday, Dec. 12, followed by the Music and Art Departments' "Christmas at Wartburg" program on Sunday, Dec. 14, and Chi Rho's Christmas Candlelighting Service on Monday, Dec. 15.

"Winter Fantasy" is the theme for Pi Sigma's turnabout Friday at Knights Gymnasium. Tbe 9 to 12 event will sponsor the music of the Vance Dixon Combo of Waterloo. Tickets at $2.50 per couple are now on sale in the supper line until the evening of the event.

Program Is Three-Fold

Welcome, praise and adoration are tbe three aspects of the theme which is to be carried out by the Music and Art Departments in their music and decoration for next Sunday's "Christmas at Wartburg," to begin at 8 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium.

Dr. G. J. Neumann, head of the Wartburg English Department, will read his poems "We Welcome Thee," "We Praise Thee" and "We Adore Thee."

Jane Becker, sophomore, Carol Kucharik, sophomore, and Pat Schiefelbein, fresbman, under the guidance of Miss Helen Wright, of the Wartburg Art Department, will use life-sized papier-mache figures to illustrate tbe three aspects of tbe theme. Surprise is also in order when the lighting effects will be produced by "black light."

Band Will Praise

Presentations by the Band, under the direction of Ernest Hagen, of the Wartburg Music Department, include "Messiah Overture" by G. F. Handel, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by J. S. Bach and "Salvation Is Created" by Tschesnokoff.

Carols by the Castle Singers, under the direction of Dr. E. A. Hovdesven of the Wartburg Music Department, include "Oh Happy Time," a Norwegian carol; "Never a Star So Bright," a French carol; and "My Heart Is a Manger" by Alfsen.

Numbers by the Wartburg Choir, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Liemohn, bead of the Wartburg Music Department, include "O How Sball I Receive Thee?," "Lord Hosanna" and "Dearest Joseph" by Scbreck and "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" by J. Berger.

More of Handel

Selection to be presented by the cboruses and band is G. F. Handel's "Hallelujab Chorus,"

"Oh, Holy Night," theme of Cbi Rho's Candlelighting Service, scheduled for Monday at 7:30 p.m., will be sung by Jim Thomas, junior. Dr. C. T. Hanson, of tbe Wartburg Philosophy Department, will be the speaker for the event. Selections to be sung by the male choir are "This Night a Wondrous Revelation," arranged by Leroy Buchholz, senior, and "As on This Night" by Orlando Gibbons.

'Human Rights' Topic For Convo

Tenth anniversary of the Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations Dec. 10, 1948, will be observed at Tuesday's convo. Monthly Faculty and Student Body meetings will be conducted during Thursday's convo period.

The Rev. Arthur J. Seegers, D.D., scbeduled for Tuesday's convo, will speak on "Human Rights, Christianly Viewed." Dr. Seegers, a 1920 graduate of Wartburg College, is the author of "Studies in the Catechism" and past editor of the Sunday School page for the Lutheran Standard.

Debaters Engage Home Argument With TC Monday

Iowa State Teachers College debate team will meet the Wartburg debate team in a practice contest at 7:15 Monday evening, Dec. 8, in Luther Hall.

Proposition tbis year is "Resolved, that the further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement."

On the affirmative side for Wartburg will be junior Jim Eissinger and junior Dean Engbrecht, speaking in Room 201, sophomore Dave Shetter and sophomore Ken Skala in Room 202.

Opposing the resolution will be freshman Meta Fokkena and sophomore Deanna Stob in Room 203. Another group may speak in 206.

Hagen Resigns Music Position

Ernest Hagen, of the Wartburg Music Department since 1952, has resigned, effective at the end of this semester, to accept a position as conductor of the Casper Civic Symphony, Casper, Wyo.

No successor has been appointed to fill this vacancy.

Hagen organized the Waverly Community Sympbony Orchestra several years ago and has since been its conductor.

Chest Proceeds Reach $626 Total

Final Campus Cbest total reached $626, according to senior Roger Buhr, Chest chairman. Student solicitors campaigned from Nov. 17-26.

The sum will be distributed as follows: Student Memorial Fund, $175; Senate Special Fund, $22.55; Lutheran Children's Home of Waverly, $67.65; American Heart Association, $67.65; Lutheran Student Action, $112.75; CARE, $90.20; and International Christian University of Japan, $90.20.

"Tbe drive was a wonderful example of volunteer giving," said Buhr.

Senators Discuss Project, Concert

Student Body Project, Pops Concert and National Student Association Conference headlined the Student Senate agenda Monday night. Sophomore Senator David Grube also reported on progress of the Academic Life Committee.

Senate will recommend to the Student Body that a Project be sponsored during second semester. The motion, made by Vice Pres. Herb Hafermann, was passed after suggestions for campaign improvement.

Soliciting Sought

Better soliciting, publicity and tbe need to begin the Student Body Project campaign earlier were emphasized. The manner of selecting the project drew fire.

"I think the trouble lies in selection—not in the project itself," said sophomore Dick Jebsen during discussion of the advisability of project sponsorship tbis year.

Pianist, Pops Choice

Following a report by Pops Concert Chairman Fred Langrock, senators voted pianist Roger Williams as top choice for concert artist from a field of eight candidates. The Crewcuts and tbe Hi-Lo's snared second and third places, respectively.

Student Body Pres. Jim Scbwarz recommended that the Pops Concert Committee choose the date of the presentation. The committee will later report to the Senate on date selection and availability of concert artists.

Five To Simpson

In other action, it was decided to send five delegates, including Scbwarz, to the National Student Association Conference at Simpson College, Indianola, Dec. 13 and 14. Other representatives have not been definitely named.

Academic Life Committee work was outlined by its chairman, Dave Grube. Thus far the group, according to the report, has concentrated on student representation on the college Educational Policies Committee, a proposed Academic Freedom Week, foreign and Negro student scholarships, pre-registration, discussion groups and a scholastic honor society.

Both Senate and Student Body will meet next week. Approval of a Student Body Project and reports on Campus Chest and Pops Concert are on the agenda for the Student Body meeting Thursday. Senators convene Monday.

Student Wagon's Draggin'; Get Your Ride Early

Students leaving for vacation and requesting the services of the station wagon should make arrangements at least twenty-four hours in advance, as announced by H. C. Engelbrecht, business manager. They should also make arrangements for the return trip.

If there is a change of plans, the student should notify the business office.

According to Engelbrecht, three unnecessary trips were made recently witb the station wagon because students failed to notify the business office about a change in plans. If people are not more considerate, the services of the station wagon will have to be discontinued.

HERB GETS HELP!

Busy Mgr. Has Assistant

BREAKING IN right as assistant to college business manager, Herb Engelbrecht is Edward Fryk, Milwaukee, Wis., new full-time employee.

* * * * * * * * * * *

Edward O. Fryk Jr. of Milwaukee, Wis., has been chosen as assistant to Herbert C. Engelbrecht, business manager of Wartburg College. He will have an office in the Maintenance Building.

Before coming to Wartburg, Fryk was with the Milwaukee School of Engineering. Prior to that, he was a civilian worker in Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis. He has a wife and two children, whom he plans to bring to Waverly in February or March.

Between now and Christmas, he intends to acquaint himself with Wartburg College and its students.

"The college has grown to the point where we need an assistant in the business office," stated Engelbrecht, business manager. "And Mr. Fryk is the man we have chosen."

Up Again, Down Again — That's The Tale Of Relics

High in the attic of Old Main lurk relics of New Guinea art.

While assisting Miss Helen Wright, of the Wartburg Art Department, in obtaining some art material from the attic of Old Main recently, Ronald Rohloff and Phil Williams, freshmen, discovered a collection of native handiwork of New Guinea.

Relics Are Rare

Miss Wright stated that these artifacts are comparable to the items found in the Rockefeller Museum of Primitive Art in New York and that they should be preserved.

Some of the art pieces are on display in the main showcase of the Fine Arts Building at this time.

Wright Praises Primitive

Miss Wright feels that this handicraft is of great value because "the primitive way of life is fast disappearing and can never be duplicated again."

These forms of primitive art, which were given to Wartburg College by its graduates serving in the missionary fields of New Guinea, were once a part of a museum located on first floor of Old Main. Later, the need for more teaching space caused the museum to be pushed up a flight of stairs until it reached the attic.

DIM LIGHTS, PLEASE

Wartburg students have been asked to use less electricity in their rooms, especially between 5 and 7 p.m., by college business manager H. C. Engelbrecht.

Reason for the request is that Tbursday's fire in the Waverly power plant put one of the large diesel engines out of commission.

Charlie Wasn't – Was He?

Charlie was enjoying himself as he drove along the highway that night. Charlie was busy listening to the radio. Charlie was busy smoking a cigarette. Charlie was busy talking to a friend. Charlie was too busy to bother dimming his headlights when the other car came over the rise of the hill. Charlie and his friend are dead.

Charlie always did have bad manners and when driving he was no different. Charlie could see perfectly well that another car was coming over the hill before the car actually came fully into view. He could have dimmed his lights then, but he didn't.

The other driver blinked his high beams on and off, and then blinked them again. Charlie might have dimmed his lights, but he had something important to say to his friend, so he didn't bother.

Too bad about Charlie. He was a fine fellow, but he was always neglecting his manners, especially when driving.

It's a good thing not everyone is as lacking in consideration for the other fellow as Charlie was. It's a good thing the rest of us have enough intelligence to recognize a car coming on the other side of a hill so that we can dim our lights.

It's a good thing the rest of us never leave our lights on just because the other fellow won't dim his.

It's a good thing we know enough to look off to the side of the road when we meet a car with bright lights instead of trying to see straight ahead through the oncoming glare.

It's a good thing we put driving first and conversation, cigarettes and radio programs second when we're on the road.

None of us are like Charlie, are we?

—G. D.

When is an all-school event not an all-school event? Delving into history, we find that the library, which closes for all-school functions, remained open Tuesday, Nov. 18, while the choir gave its home concert. Last Tuesday it closed for a basketball game.

Evening classes are not dismissed for basketball games — why should the library be closed to those who desire to study at that time?

Wartburg continues to be a top-rank school. In fact, the Board of Regents was so disturbed when it saw that Wartburg was ranked low in tuition costs among the merging Lutheran schools that it raised the amount by 52 dollars to help catch up.

Must be that the big snowstorm predicted for Thanksgiving travel is holding off until Dec. 19.

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

Basketball season is here, Thanksgiving vacation has passed, and Ketha house is back to full strength once again. Only thing left to do now is settle down for the laborious task of pounding out term papers and gunning for finals. Incidentally, there are only 19 days till final exam week.

Open forum convos are always welcomed by Trumpet columnists because of the copy they yield. The answer to the question "Why isn't the library open on Saturday evenings?" included the expense involved.

One bright Wartburger offers this solution: The money needed to operate the library on Saturday evening could easily be acquired by cutting cost in other areas. For example, turn off the light in the lounge and entrance halls of Centennial and Wartburg Halls after 9:30 on Saturday.

Height of Frustration: a person who drops his last dime in a telephone booth at night. The light has to be on to find the dime, but the light won't go on unless the door is closed, and if the door is closed, he can't bend over.

Having our thoughts directed toward Christmas by advertisers reminds us of this classic yuletide quote: "I don't care who he is, tell him to keep his reindeer off my roof!"

For those of you who are seeking still more of a rough and tough sport after viewing football all season, we remind you that IM basketball is going full force. Reported so far: One sprained ankle, three jammed thumbs, five blisters and many tired bodies. Looks like a great season — for the clinic.

Pastor Schick hinted at the idea of holding Saturday classes. Although the idea is not the most popular, we can see some merit in it. In fact, we think it is a good idea, and it should be put into effect — 10 years from now!

Pi Sigma, as you all know, is sponsoring a Christmas turnabout ball, the tickets for which are $2.50. Now we understand why it is a turnabout, because for $2.50, the guys would never ask the girls.

CAMPUS VOICE

Chairman Asks Cooperation For Yule Program Rehearsals

To The Students and Faculty of Wartburg:

The traditional yule program known as "Christmas at Wartburg" will soon be upon us, and all preliminary plans indicate that we shall again have a program of high quality — a true service of praise and adoration.

It is for good cause that I wish to appeal to all members of the choirs and concert band to give every possible cooperation by attending the two joint rehearsals which are planned. Obviously, the only place large enough for such rehearsals is in Knights Gymnasium, and the two rehearsals must be scheduled when the gymnasium is available. The first rehearsal will be early on Saturday evening, Dec. 13, and the second on Sunday afternoon, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Since the weekend of Dec. 12-14 will be the last before Christmas and since the "Christmas at Wartburg" program is our joint gift to thousands who will attend on that Sunday evening, may all plan to stay on campus that weekend and to attend the fine pre-holiday events that have been planned, including the rehearsals which will be so vital.

Sincerely,
H. C. Engelbrecht, chairman
"Christmas at Wartburg"

Local Officer Says Intersections Are Danger Points

By Don Bathgate

"When intersection accidents occur at speeds around 20 m. p. h., just the body shops get the business, but when one or both cars are driving 40 m. p. h., the hospitals get the business."

Thus spake Earl Hill, assistant to the Chief of Police in Waverly. He pointed out that the failure of drivers to reduce their speed when approaching an intersection was the main reason for automobile accidents in the city.

Hill stated that many drivers do not realize that there is a section in the drivers' code which says that all drivers are required to reduce to a reasonable and proper speed when approaching an intersection.

He went on to say that very few drivers realize the danger on side streets, especially when the streets are wet or covered with snow and ice. A driver should drive at a speed varying in accordance with the conditions of the streets.

"Speed is not as dangereus on Bremer Avenue as it is on the side streets because Bremer Avenue is a right of way," commented Hill. 'Speed is definitely responsible for accident on side streets."

As for accidents on Bremer Avenue, Hill stated that racing to beat a stop light causes more accidents than anything else. According to Hill, the stop lights are set for a 20 m. p. h. zone; therefore, any vehicle should be able to come to a stop during the time that the light is yellow.

He pointed out that if one driver 'steps on it' to beat a red light while another driver from a side street is impatient and leaves just before his light turns green, a serious accident could result.

When asked what he thought of the driving of Wartburg students, Hill replied, "The students up at the college have a tendency to drive a little faster than the average driver in Waverly, but you have to realize that because of their age their reactions are quicker. They can bring an automobile to a stop in the same distance driving 30 m. p. h. that an older person can driving 25 m. p. h. Actually, they are not any more careless or susceptible to accidents than is the average driver."

He went on to say that the police are quite satisified with the cooperation they receive from Wartburg students, especially when compared with other college communities. A few tickets for violations are given to students, but they accept them with the realization that they were in the wrong.

He stated that the Police Department does not try to pick on Wartburg students. Because of this fact, in his opinion, the students are cooperating with the Police Department in their driving.

—Courtesy Waverly Police

"BUT I HAD THE RIGHT OF WAY. He was supposed to stop for me!" commented BOTH drivers.

Axmen Drill For Friday Loop Opener; Host Non-Conference Augsburg Tonight

Wartburg's basketball squad will prepare for its conference opener against Central as it plays host to Augsburg tonight in the Knights Gym following the Waverly High School game.

In previous seasons Wartburg has run up a slight edge against Augsburg by winning five out of nine games played. Last year the Wartburg quintet overpowered the Augsburg five by an 83 to 63 score. Tonight the Knights will be out to improve their overall standing against Augsburg as they take the hardcourts at 8:45.

Players Go To Pella

Conference action will find the Wartburg cagers opening their bid in the nine-school race for the loop crown against defending co-champion Central of Pella. The Dutchmen will host the Knights on Dec. 12 at an 8 p.m. tilt.

Pegged as an underdog team in contention for top honors in last season's action, the Dutchmen came out on top to gain a share of the conference glory with Upper Iowa.

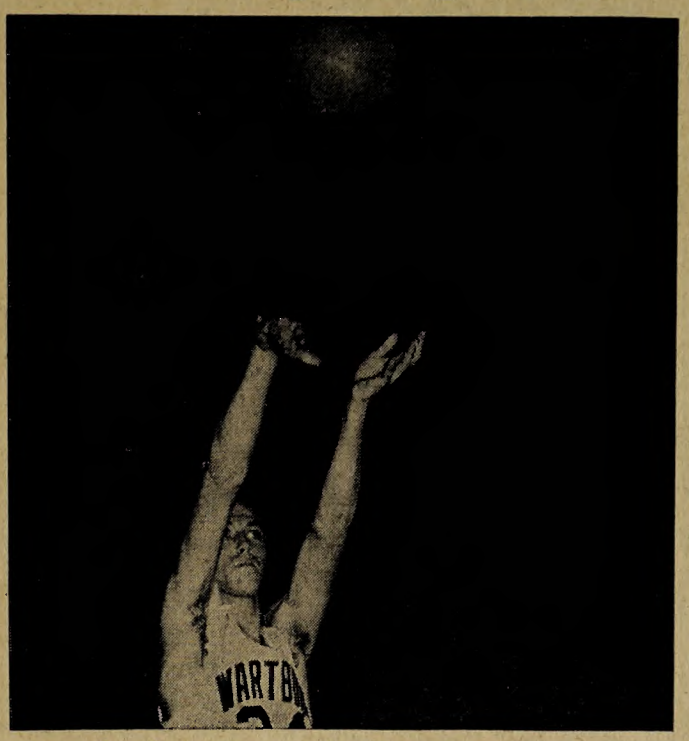
This season, the Central five will have to remember their glory of last season's victory, as the big three veterans, Virgil Dykstra, Ken Loats and Eldon Schulte, have graduated. Dykstra led the club in the scoring department with 460 points for a 20.9 average—an all-time school record. Schulte and Loats were outstanding, both offensively and defensively, and they were good clutch players.

Dutch Fill Old Shoes

Even at the loss of three starters, the Dutchmen have five lettermen returning for this season's action. Leading the central attack this season is senior veteran Leroy Timmer, who was third in scoring and led the team in assets last season.

Simpson College, fifth place last season, will play host to the Wartburg quintet Dec. 13 in the Knights' second conference tilt for the season. Game time is at 8.

Five lettermen from last year's team, will be spearheading the Redmen in this season's action. Returning are forward Chuck Langerud, center Bob Tidgren and guards Captain Dave Beane, Bill Austin and Harold Suchy.



SOPHOMORE GUARD Dave Jensen, puts one skyward in preparation for tonight's home hassle with Augsburg.

Matsters Start Tuesday

Wartburg's wrestling squad will open this year's schedule Tuesday evening, Dec. 9, against Winona State in Knights Gym. Five lettermen have returned from last year's squad to give hopes to Coach Norm Johansen.

Last year the Knights wound up the regular season with a 5-4 record and finished sixth in the first NAIA small college wrestling tourney, hcld in Mankato, Minn. Wartburg was one of 19 teams participating, and the Knights picked up 19 points with returnee Bruce Brye, junior, finishing second in the heavyweight division, while Dick Chellevold, a returning 130-pound senior, and Norm Friedrichs, 115-pound senior, each finished fourth in his division.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

Knight cagers looked somewhat impressive in whipping Winona State 72-67 Tuesday night in the season opener.

Coach Ax Bundgaard stated last week that he thought his present team would win at least fifty per cent of its ball games during the coming season.

Whether or not Knight hoopmen exceed these expectations depends on several "if's." Two of the biggest "if's" on the squad are forward Wayne Slack and guard Dave Jensen. If Slack, a tremendous rebounder, can score consistently this season, he will be one of the most valuable men on the Wartburg five. If Jensen, a man with speed of lightning, can hit with accuracy from the outside, he could easily become the team leader and spark plug that left last year when John Adix graduated.

Of course, John Tuecke can be counted on for a good share of the scoring and rebounding, but once again, it would be a deadly blow IF his knee were not able to stand the grind of the long campaign.

• • • •

At present it looks as though Simpson might be the team to beat in the Iowa Conference this season. The Redmen have 14 lettermen returning. They have an abundance of height and two of the smoothest guards in the loop in Bill Beane and Billy Austin.

However, the Redmen in past years have been extra tough in their home gymnasium, but have a difficult time winning on the road. For that reason, we are going to go with the WARTBURG KNIGHTS as the pick for IOWA CONFERENCE CHAMPS this season.

University of Dubuque will put on the floor this season one of its toughest teams in several years and will probably get in the hair of many opponents. The Spartans do lack height and experience, but should be one of the top finishers next February.

• • • •

Parsons will be extra strong. This team has the tallest player in the conference in 6' 10" Verne Hallings and a pair of very good defensive guards in Don Martin and Frankie Harper. The Wildcats had a bad finish last season, but look for them higher in the standings this year.

Iowa Wesleyan lost the famed quad-city trio, but reportedly has some brilliant freshman talent. The Tigers won't be too high at the finish unless they pick up some more potent transfers at the semester, one of their favorite tricks of the past.

Luther figures to be somewhat improved over last year. We don't sell the Norse short as a contender.

Buena Vista is a stronger ball team. The Beavers must get a lot of help from green freshmen, though, to be real contenders.

• • • •

Last year's co-champs, Central and Upper Iowa, both shot their wad last season. Central could build around a very fine guard, Tommy Hall, and a couple more returning lettermen.

But the Peacocks have had the course. Wayne Sawyer, Ron Jarms and Company have discontinued operations. Only one left is Milt Mohs and he is tough only against Wartburg. They play the Knights but twice.

The last big "if," IF injuries don't knock on our door, then it should look like this by the end of February:

WARTBURG — Simpson — Dubuque — Parsons — Iowa Wesleyan — Luther — Buena Vista — Central — Upper Iowa.
